CLASS FAVORITES

It is a tradition at S.M.A.H.S. for the seniors to select their class favorites. The voting takes place in homerooms on secret ballots. This years results were not a surprise but were difficult to decide or photograph. Tim McCaulsky was not available on 4 different occasions to get his picture taken for choice of Shyest Guy. No one knew whether or not the favorite couple was still going together. Mr. Scilingo has been the favorite male teacher for a long time, while Ms. Stoker made the #1 spot in her first year here.

HOME COMING

On October 21st and 22nd spirits soared in Dutch Country for the Homecoming weekend. Fourteen candidates, selected by the senior class, competed for recognition as the Homecoming Queen. The festivities began with the introduction of the girls to the student body and the cheering on of the football players at the pep rally. That evening the Dutch fought hard, but bowed to the Clearfield Bison by a 21-26 score. During halftime the Mister and Mistress of Ceremonies, Dave Lynch and Kelly Schreiber, announced the candidates and their escorts to the Homecoming crowd. The student body chose Laura Haskell as Homecoming Queen and Mary Jane Rhoades as the Runner-up. The following evening many students attended the semi-formal Homecoming Dance, bringing an end to spirit week.

NOT ALL IS BUSINESS IN BUSINESS CLASS.
THUMBODY IS ON THIS PAGE THUMBWHERE!?!*#@!

ADMINISTRATION AND STAFF

We are blessed with a competent and dedicated staff who keeps everything running efficiently. From keeping students out of trouble to expounding the finer points of the quadratic equation (At least we are led to believe there are some . . .), they move us smoothly through fifty minute sessions each day.

As you look through the following photographs of administration and faculty, you will be reminded of classes and incidents that took place here at St. Marys Area High. Each picture will bring back special memories for each of us. The Yearbook Staff has these ideas to get you started: English — Mr. Bleggi's tuxedo, research papers, and the trip to see MacBeth; Fine Arts — the Pep Band, Mr. Slater's decorated walls, and the production of Grease; Industrial Arts — Metal and wood projects, three-dimensional drawings, and computer software; Business — Mr. Lenze's, "Don't be nervous. Don't be tense. It's only me, Mr. Lenze, and Ms. Gilotti's cane; Math — Mr. Fedorko's chalkdust, Mr. Palenski's proofs, and Mr. Herzing's exactness; History — Mr. Schreiber's jokes (Did you ever hear the one about the wholesalers?), Mr. Amendola's Christmas Quiz, and Mr. Mraz's notes; Science — Mr. Scilingo's experiments, Miss Hagar's Punnett Squares, and Mr. Pavlock's singing; Language — Mrs. Finger's stories and concern for each student, and Mrs. Simpson's German Christmas carols; Home Economics — the odor of burning cookies, day care, and Mrs. Lyle's cheerfulness; Physical Education — Mr. Bolt's skydiving, Mr. Posteraro's swimming lessons, and Mrs. Bienkowski's dance class; Health — Mr. Chiappelli's Penn State points and Annie the dummy; Guidance — Mrs. Caimi's "Fiddle Faddle" and "Mind you", Mr. Sloff's career advice, and Mr. Gasper's ability to remember people. From the front office to the newest teacher, these people have nurtured each of us.

Mrs. Wachob's cafeteria ladies do their best to provide us with nourishing lunches. They never lack spirit, especially the holiday kind.

TOP — For those who have never seen the faculty room, this is a typical scene; teachers only act professional in the classroom.

LEFT — Earlier in the year Mr. Mraz became a local TV personality. Here Paul Benjamin and Mr. Mraz look over the roster of the Mr. Mraz Fan Club.

Mr. Luke
Superintendent

I extend a very sincere and personal word of congratulations to each member of the class of 1988. We are proud of your achievements.

You begin a new experience which requires greater seriousness and responsibility. The way you meet the challenges of life will be the real test of your education. You have the physical, mental, and emotional resources to make a positive impact upon society.

We look forward to your contribution to your family, community, and nation. Whatever you do, you are the ambassadors of your family, community, and nation. Represent them with pride, dignity, and respect.

Very best wishes to each of you!

Mrs. Hornung
Assistant Superintendent

During the years that you have spent in the St. Marys Area School District you have grown from a child to a young adult. We are proud to have helped you. If you did your part, you are prepared for the next demands of life. Best wishes as you enter the adult world.

Mr. Robertson
Principal

Dear Class of '88

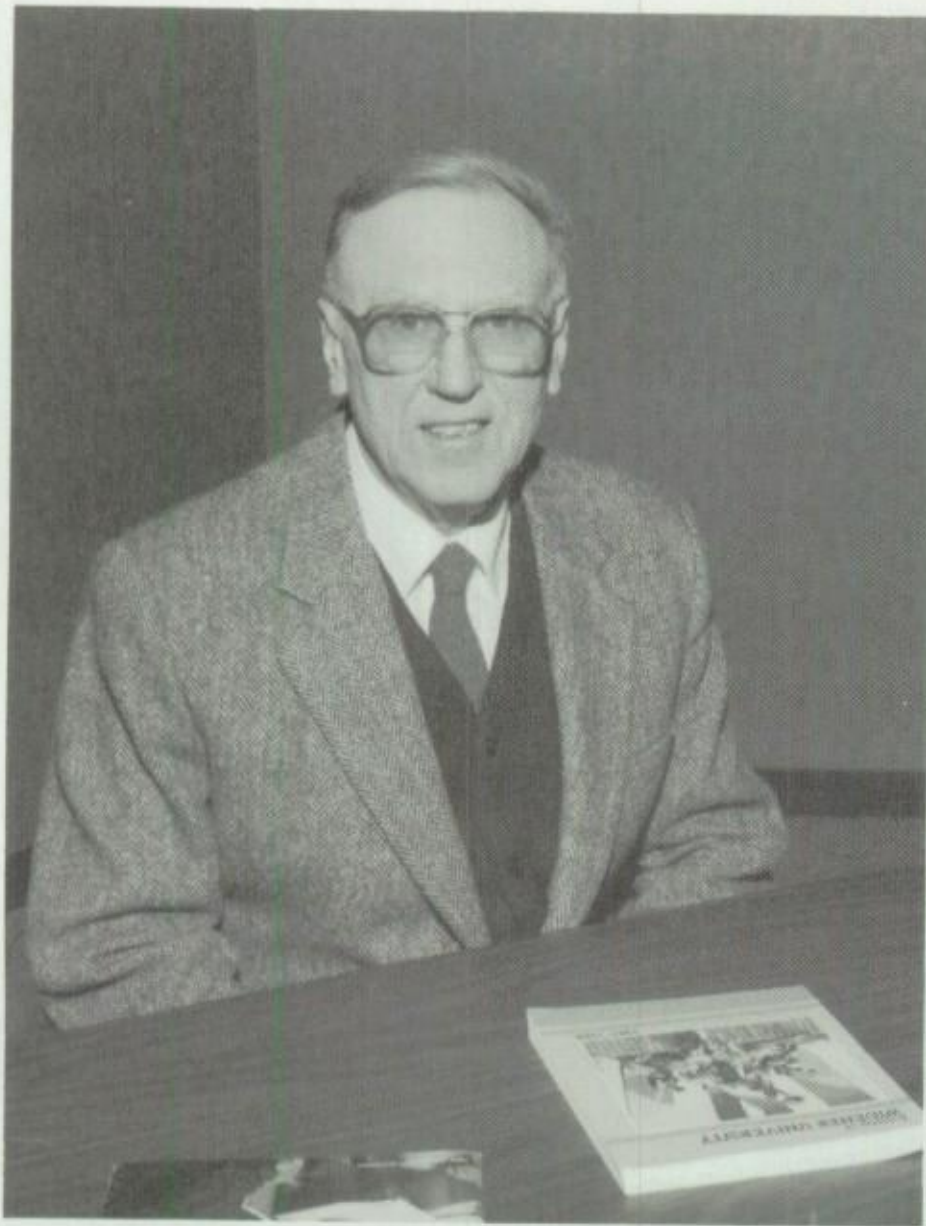

I extend my heartfelt congratulations and best wishes for the future. Emerson said, "Things taught in school . . . are not an education but the means of education." Continue to learn as you develop into the leaders of tomorrow. Be conscientious citizens as the keepers of our democracy. I expect great things from each and every member of the Class of 1988.

Mrs. Grim
Assistant Principal

Dear Class of '88

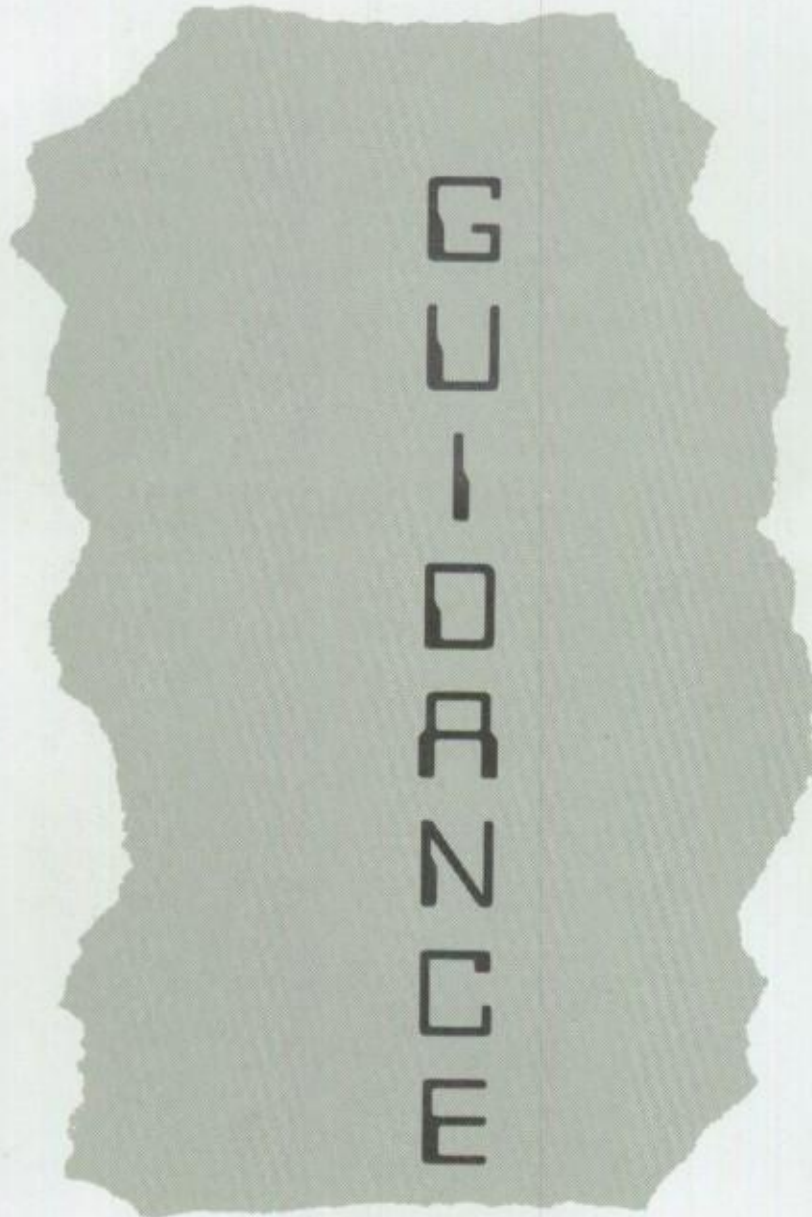

You are entering young adulthood at a time of no other in the history of humankind. Our world has changed dramatically in the last 20 years and contemporary history indicates that this rate of change will continue at a rapid pace. I view your generation of young adults as bold, inquisitive and enormously adaptable to the many changes which beset you. Continue to be these things and more. Do not accept mediocrity in life. Strive to be the very best person you can be. Care for yourselves as individuals and cultivate the talents and abilities with which you've been blessed. Respect and value others and be flexible with the curves life will throw you. Best wishes.

UNDERCLASSMEN

How do you define an underclassman?

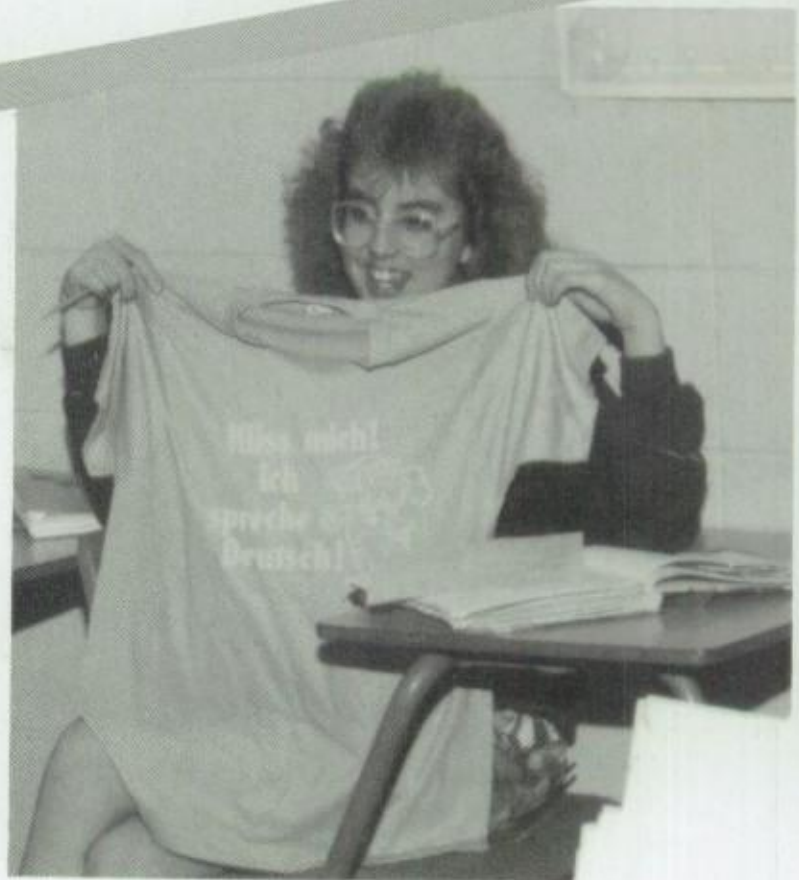

It depends on your perspective.

From the senior point of view, the word "underclassman" presents many images. An underclassman is a person who stands in the middle of the hallway creating a traffic jam. An underclassman is one who gets pushed to the back of the lunch line. An underclassman is last to pick his gym class and the last to leave the auditorium. Underclassmen are dummies and dummy carriers on the football team. An underclassman is the one who is given directions to the elevator on the first day of school. An underclassman is dirt, a peasant, a nobody. An underclassman is the one carrying all his books for the day. An underclassman is short, shy, and scared to death. An underclassman is one who sits in the library while the seniors bask in the senior lounge. An underclassman's greatest goal is to say, "I am a senior!"

From an underclassman's perspective, the definition is quite different. Underclassmen define themselves as important people, the greatest fans, the spirit of the school, and "the heart and soul of what matters".

Mr. Yacabucci demonstrates how to use the microscope.

SPORTS

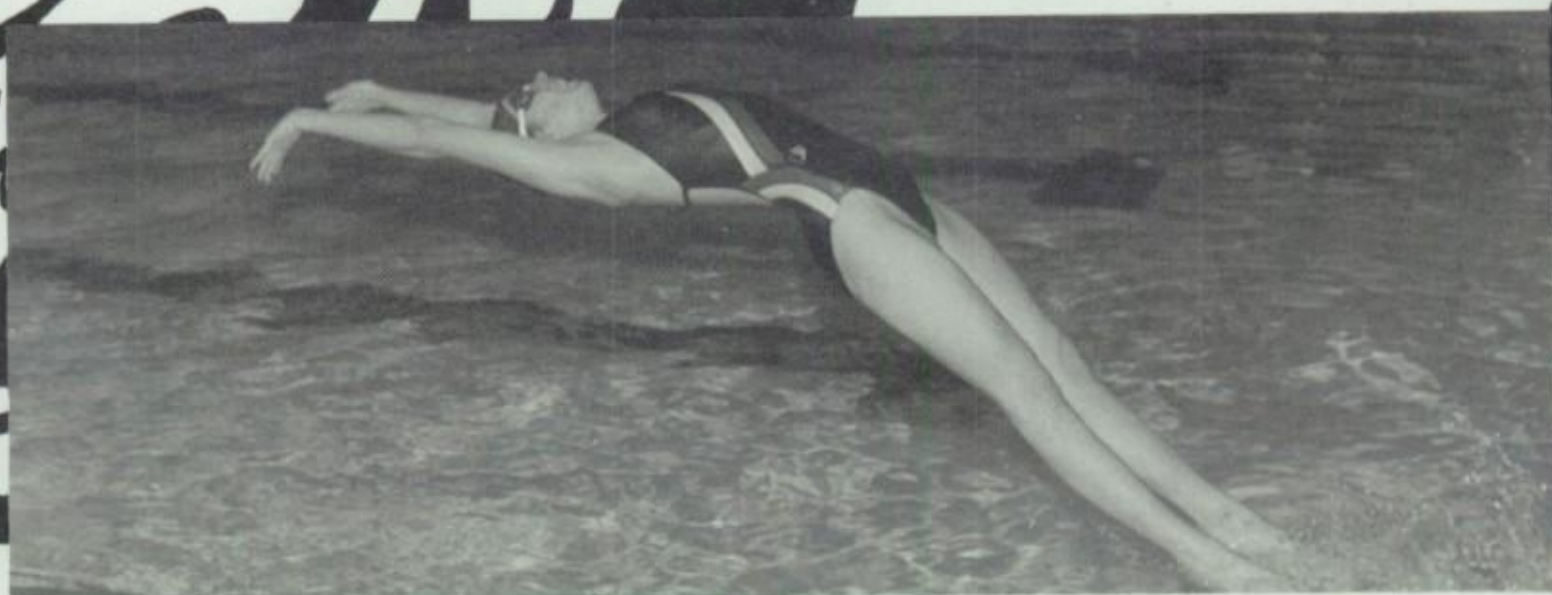

"Sports — The other half of education." This statement that is on a poster on our athletic director's door is really a truism. Sports encourage students to do better in school and are the backbone of school spirit. With long hard practices after school in rain or snow, students are disciplined to budget their time between their schoolwork and sport. Students learn to put forth their best effort and experience "the pride of victory" or "the agony of defeat."

Sports are stimulating and exciting for the crowd as well as for the team members. The electrifying opening football game between S.M.A.H.S. and E.C.C.H.S., the girls volleyball team using teamwork in setting up spikes, the new male cheerleaders tossing and catching the female cheerleaders, the agile gymnasts doing the daring and strenuous routines on the uneven bars, the new three-point play, the grueling quarter mile finish in the cross country meet, the double play and the homerun, the ace serve, the near pin with seconds to go, the thirty foot putt shot, the high jump for a new school record, and the perfect dive — all contribute to the fascination we have for sports.

FOOTBALL

Even though our final record was 2-6-1, this year's football team brought pride to our school. Under the leadership of new head coach, Mark Olay, we evolved from individuals to a team or family. We put aside all our differences, and we salvaged what we could of the season. If a team can be judged by wins and losses only, we did not excel. But if a team can be judged by its character, both on and off the field, we were champs. Despite a Friday night's loss, our team bounded back to prepare for the next opponent as if we were 9-0. From January weight training to the victory in our last game, we showed pride and character.

CHEERLEADERS

Pride, dedication, determination and plenty of hard work are the ingredients that comprise a St. Marys Dutch Cheerleader. Most students recognize us as the people who stands in front of them at football games, wrestling matches, and basketball games. However, the actual cheering at games is only a small part of the total effort we must put forth.

Our cheerleaders commenced practice during the summer and held a Cheerleading clinic for one week. We learned many new impressing cheers, mounts, and chants. From this clinic, two of our cheerleaders, Jennifer Dippold and Kristin Heigel, qualified to participate in the Hula Bowl. We are very proud of these two girls.

The cheerleaders organize the pep rallies and the annual Homecoming event. We decorate the athlete's lockers and provide them with various treats.

Cheerleading takes a great amount of commitment from every girl. The St. Marys Area Flying Dutch Cheerleaders are a spirited group who enjoy their role.

The male cheerleaders, Jeff Tamburlin, Keith Porco, and Mark Lovell, wonder when Kelly is going to come back down.

VOLLEYBALL

Under head coach John Fannin and assistant Pat Bakovich, the Dutchette volleyball team had a fine season. Although it was John Fannin's first year as head coach, he did an excellent job as the varsity ended with a 10-7 mark. "The girls gave 100% every match, both on the court and on the bench," noted Coach Fannin, "which made even the losing battles close." At districts they came in 4th, because of a few bad breaks. The seniors on the team were Jen Pistner, Lori Dolan, Laura Gregorchik, Tiffany Hogan, Vicki Coudriet, Lara Johnson, Phyll Petrilli, and Stacie Grieggs.

The JV team also had a good season as they finished with a winning mark. JV Coach Pat Bakovich did a fine job working with over twenty-five players during practices. The JV team also helped to support the Varsity during matches.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The St. Marys Area Dutchette Basketball team, under head coach Manuel Soriano and assistant coaches Dan Decker and Shelley Herzing, finished this year's season with a record of 5-18. "This record does not show the ability and dedication of these girls," stated coach Soriano. Besides the three seniors, the varsity team was made up of all sophomores and freshmen; most of them came straight from Junior High, skipping the Junior Varsity level which would have given them the experience needed. Even though they lacked experience, they placed second in the Holiday Tournament after losing a well-played game against E.C.C.H.S. They also had two players named on the All-Tourney team for this tournament. The three seniors, Lori Dolan, Jen Pistner, and Tiffany Hogan, were the team leaders on and off the court. They used their experience well when working with the younger, less experienced players.

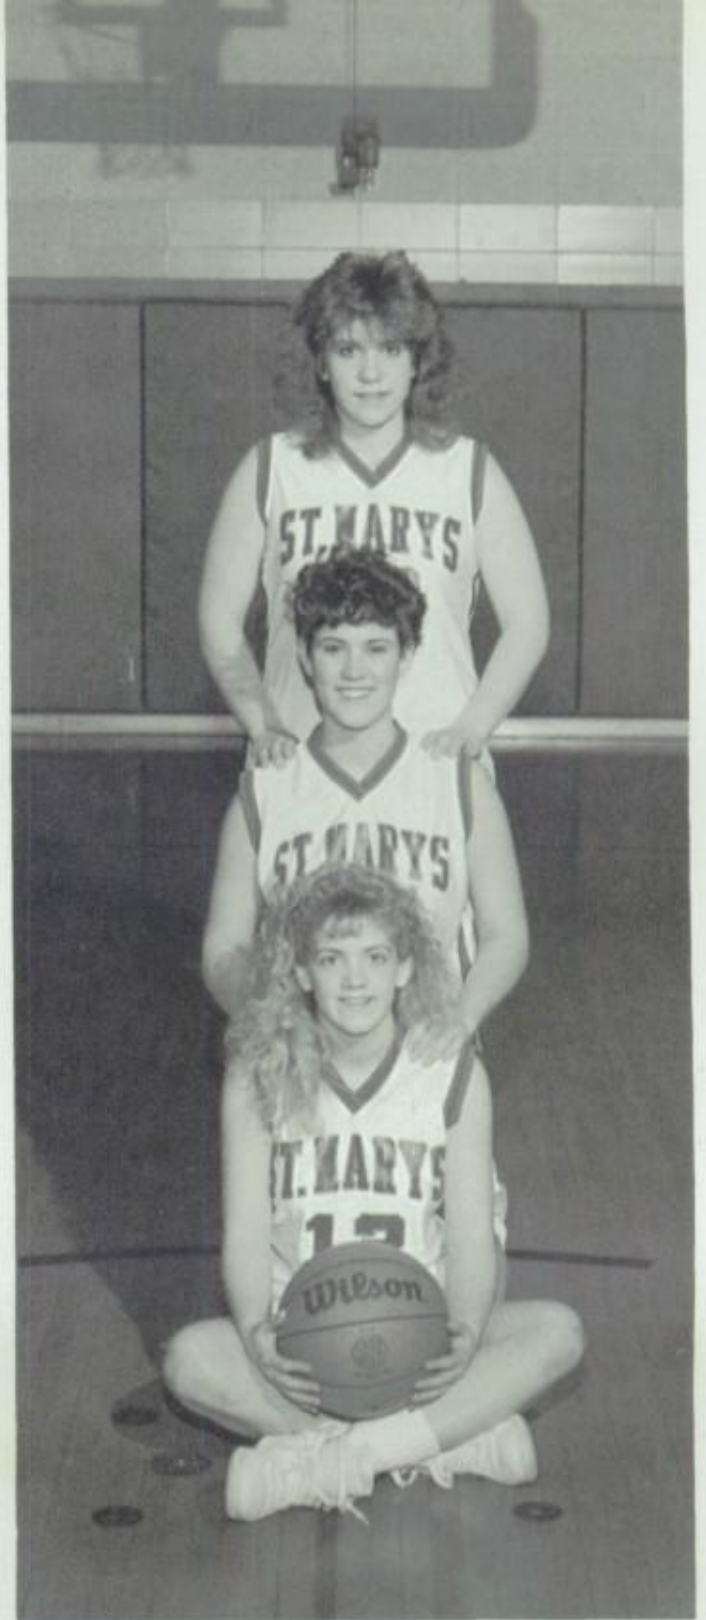

The Junior Varsity team, under coach Shelley Herzing, finished their season with an excellent mark of 8-5. They had to cut their season short because of injuries, but all of the coaches noted that they hold much promise for the future.

BOYS BASKETBALL

Over the past several years, the boys basketball teams have struggled just to survive in the tough competition around the area. This past season, the "Mighty Dutchmen" brought the SMA pride and school spirit back to life with a 16-6 season record, which includes a second place finish in the District IX League and a second place finish in the District Tournament.

At the beginning of the season, the team was predicted to go nowhere; by the middle of the season, however, they were ranked as the number one large school in the Big 30 Area. What a turn-a-round! Opposing teams no longer said, "Oh, we're only playing St. Marys." Instead they were looking at the Dutch with respect, knowing that the game wouldn't be a "piece of cake", but rather a hard-fought battle.

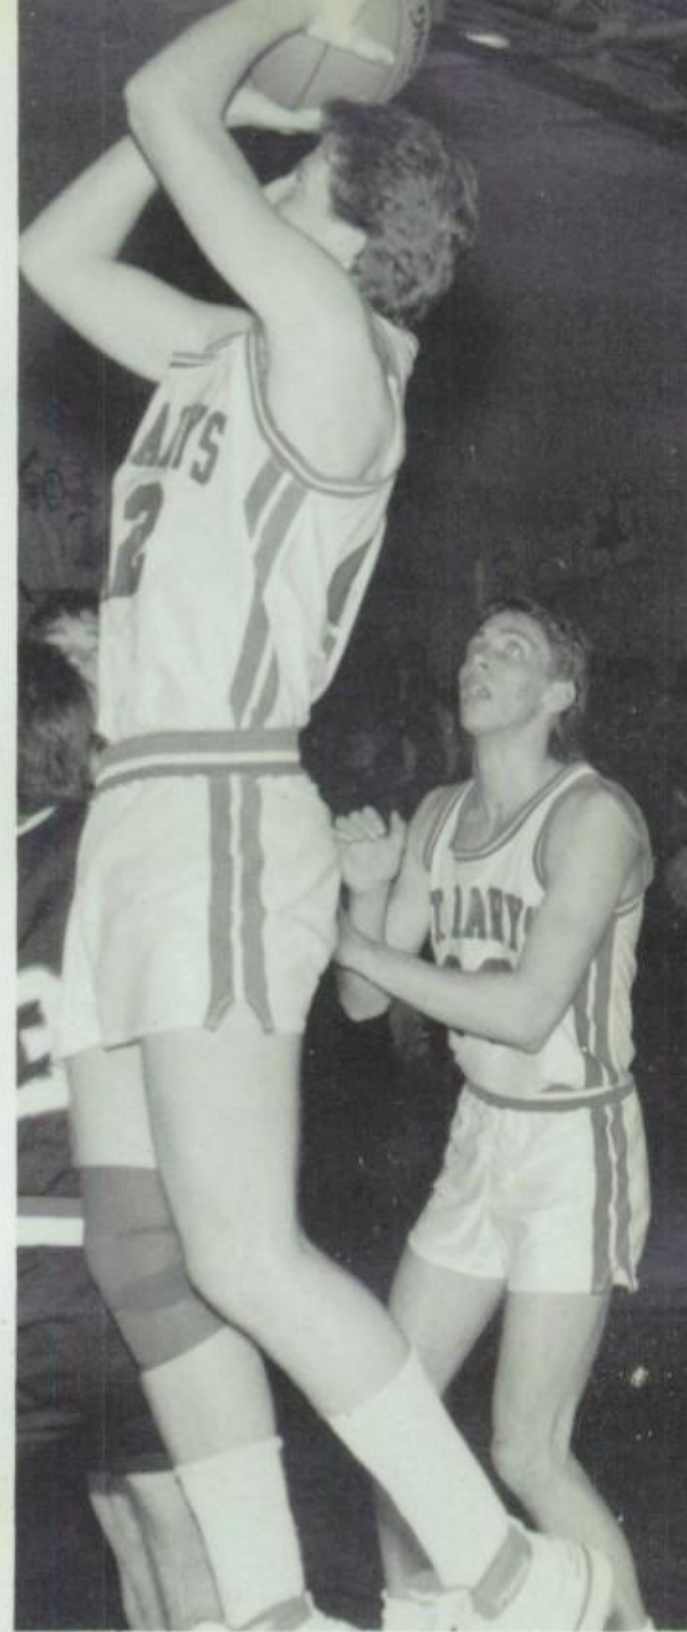

Throughout the season, the team had to overcome many obstacles. They were not blessed with the talent or height, like some of their competition; but they had that special gel, a willingness to work hard and to sacrifice, and a strong desire to succeed. These qualities didn't just appear, however; they were inspired by Coach Posteraro. He instilled a sense of pride in each player's performance and stressed the need for self-confidence and teamwork. Coach "P" strove for perfection in his coaching and wasn't satisfied with anything less from his players. His excitement towards the game of basketball ignited the players and the school. Congratulations on a great season!

GOLF

The golf team, under Coach Joel Green, improved a great deal this past season. They finished the year in fourth place in the Northern Tier League standings, missing out on third by only one point. In the District IX Tournament, the squad did exceptionally well. After the regulation eighteen holes, the three man team (consisting of Leo Lenze, Nate Marton, and Scott Haberberger) was tied with Bradford for first place. In a sudden death playoff, the boys fell to the Owl's squad, therefore, coming in second place for the day out of the total 27 teams while Leo Lenze missed going to the State Tournament as an individual by one stroke. The team also did well in the Curwensville Invitational with Nate Marton winning the MVP trophy.

GYMNASTICS

The 1988 Gymnastics season was the most exciting one since 1984 when they last won the trophy. It was a close call, but they got it and they are going to keep it. They were pushed hard at practices, but when states rolled around they knew that their effort had payed off. Everyone put every ounce of effort they had to make the season great and the team is going to work even harder next year to make it even better. Without the coaches' patience and support they could not have done it. They say thanks to Mrs. Reichard, Mrs. Eckels, and Suzie.

CROSS COUNTRY

In season plagued with cold and rainy weather, the cross country team finished the 1987 season with a commendable record of 4-4. Despite being considered as the underdogs, the determined Dutchmen took fourth place at the District IX meet in AC Valley, just three points behind Bradford.

This year's team was led by seniors Jim Fye, Paul Robertson, Shawn Whitaker, and Don Nero; and juniors Adam Mohr and Richie Pistner.

Despite not having a team, three girls, led by Deena Bittner showed their courage by running exhibition races throughout the season.

The MVP trophy was awarded to Jim Fye for an outstanding season.

SWIMMING

This year our swim team suffered a losing season, but not without gain. Each swimmer gained strength, endurance, confidence, and pride in himself or herself. We had outstanding times by many of our senior, junior, sophomore, and freshman swimmers. Wendy Hayes, a junior, finished second in the District IX swim meet in the breast stroke, and was awarded a spot on the District IX All Star Swim Team. Doug Spirelis, Dave Johnson, Marianne Young, and Deena Bittner, (seniors), improved their times consistently throughout the season. Coached by head coach Tom Lewis, and assistant coaches Ann Cook and Mike Pesce, the swim team received quality coaching and superb training.

Along with all the hard work came a lot of fun and friendship.

BASEBALL

Under the coaching of Denny Haberberger and Jerry Carr, our baseball team finished the season with a winning record. At the end of the regular season we were third in the districts. Our team was a hard hitting team as they out-hit almost every opponent. Highlights of the season were homeruns by Troy Bauer, Jeff Tamburlin, Mike Beimel, and Dan Carr.

SOFTBALL

The St. Marys Dutchettes came away with a good season even though the team lost six seniors in 87'. The young novices moved up with pride, pulling together to make it another successful year. Within the next few years the team looks invincible, and will continue to hold their heads up high.

The Boys' Tennis team, coached by Roger and Nancy Marton and Jerry Ames, finished their season with a 2-4 mark. The rain and cold temperatures caused over half of the matches to be cancelled, but the season was still a good one. "The boys improved tremendously," commented Coach Marton, "and they had a lot of fun!" WRESTLING

Coach Wayne Fedoski's Flying Dutch Wrestling Team finished out the 1987-88 season with an 8-10 record. The core of this year's squad was made up of five seniors — the two captains, Shawn Whitaker and Randy Agosti, along with Dave Cousins, Dean Taylor, and Scott Merritt.

Although it was not a crushing season for the Dutchmen, there were some good accomplishments achieved by members of this year's squad. Bill Wittman, only a sophomore, won the most team points and qualified for regionals. Shawn Whitaker achieved his 50th career win, won his second district title, and qualified for states. Randy Agosti finished 2nd in the Lock Haven Invitational and qualified for regionals for the third time. Scott Merritt won the district title, qualifying him for regionals.

TRACK

The 1988 Dutch Track and Field team had a respectable season. The Dutch beat Ridgway and Kane, tied Clearfield and lost to Bradford, Punxsy, Elk Christian, and Johnsonburg. The top people had a good year, but second and third places were hard to come by.

The 1988 Dutchettes Track and Field team met some very strong competition. The Dutchettes only win was against Johnsonburg. They lost to Punxsy, Bradford, and Elk Christian, all powerhouses, and came close to Ridgway, Kane and Clearfield. Depth also wasn't on the Dutchettes' side.

Both the boys' team and the girls' team had a fine showing at Districts. District champs were Mike Maholtz in Shot Put; Mark Lovell in Javelin; Shane Hulings in the 400 Meter Dash and Long Jump; and Bridget Mosebarger, Anne Engleberg, Lara Johnson, Deena Bittner in the 400 Meter Relay. Wendy Hayes became the school record holder in the 800 Meter Run.

CLUBS AND ACTIVITIES

Outside the normal routine of school there are great phenomena known as "clubs and activities". Almost every day on the morning announcements, we hear messages such as "Show Choir will rehearse after school tomorrow from 3 until 5", "Prom and Post-prom tickets will go on sale Tuesday in all lunches", or "Anyone interested in joining the Young Entrepreneurs Club should meet in the cafeteria next Thursday after school". It's organizations like these that give our school personality (and sometimes they keep the students from going insane!). The band, show choir, stagelighting club, and Grease cast show that we have not forgotten the beauty of the fine arts. The National Honor Society gives well deserved recognition to students who take pride in scholarship, citizenship, and leadership. Field trips to plays in Pittsburgh, nuclear reactors, and fish stockings play an important role in giving students first hand information and experience. And how would anyone know about meetings and trips if the student broadcasters didn't announce these events every morning?

Students at SMAHS take their studies seriously, but they also know how to unwind after the final bell rings. With the existence of clubs and activities we are about to show you, this "unwinding" makes our school and community a more interesting place.

BAND

The pounding of the bass drum, the flair and elegance of majorettes, the shrill yet triumphant blare of a silver trumpet — all these things add to the excitement surrounding a football game, and the St. Marys Area High School Band brings them to the Dutch Country Stadium. This year, the marching band was rather small, but with the leadership of Mr. Edwin Schwer, some help from 8th grade band members, and a new assistant director, Mr. Dean Schreckengost, the half-time shows were just as impressive as always.

Off the field, the concert band worked hard to produce a strong sound. The band also produced many students who participated in the Junior I.U.9, Senior I.U.9, and District festivals.

BLOODMOBILE

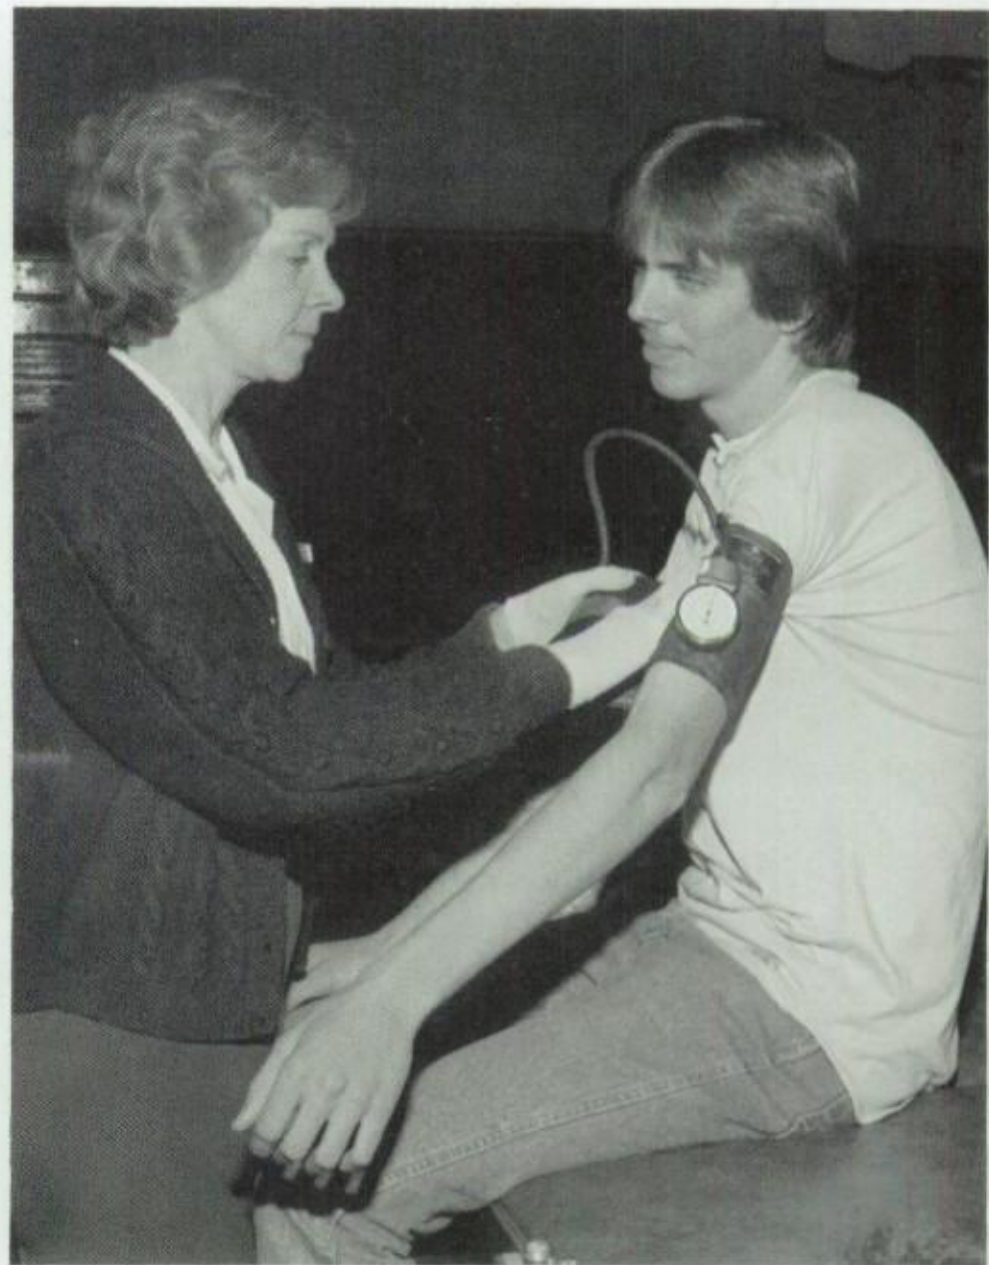

Each year the Student Council sponsors a Bloodmobile, a very worthwhile project which instills civic responsibility in our students. This year 143 possible donors met in the gymnasium on April 12th ready to give blood. Led by Student Council president Lori Dolan and advisor Edward Defillipi, our student body donated 120 units of blood.

GREASE

Grease: the play that captivated the entire student body as well as the public! Most saw the energy and excitement that the cast generated on stage, but few have seen the hard work, the laughter, and even the tears that were shed behind the scenes of Grease.

The play began with a small band of raw actors with latent talent. After the cast was first assembled, many of the cast members quit and others had to fill their positions. But those who held fast and stuck with the play, even through the hard times, were greatly rewarded in the end.

The producer of this group of young actors was Mrs. Pontzer. It was her job to bring the cast together and to give them the initiative and the support that they needed in order to do their best in performing as a team on stage. It was a rough job indeed, but when the curtain went up for the dress rehearsal, it seemed as though the job had been well-accomplished.

Holly Pontzer as Sandy.

The hard work and dedication had paid off, but not without the myriad of events that had occurred backstage.

The action behind the scenes was fast-paced and at times often confusing. Practices were filled with a wide variety of various incidents, such as Mark Wolfel constantly banging on the drums to relieve stress, the constant line slip-ups made by all cast members & Jay McCoy's trying to get used to driving Greased Lightning. After a few practices a feeling of uncertainty came over the cast. They were saying their lines, but they seemed to have the attitude that it "wasn't going to be very good." John Shaffer and Hope Showers made a speech that inspired everyone into wanting to make Grease great. After the speech, a feeling of pride came over the cast; they worked hard and strived to get every line right.

Finally the time of the first performance arrived, along with the fear and nervousness accompanying every actor as he or she prepared to take the stage in front of 1200 peers. This would be their first audience to perform for ... and their hardest.

The entire cast felt the nervous anticipation as they waited for the curtain to part. Some members of the cast cried while others waited silently for the play to begin. A few last wishes of "good luck" were heard as the remaining members of the opening act took their places on the stage. From the very first song sung by the class reunion members, the cast experienced the gut feeling that they had captured the audience. All of the hard work and dedication had paid off. When the last song was sung, the entire student body rose in a standing ovation to the cast. A flood of emotions broke over the stage area as the cast realized that this was what it was all about.

PROM '88

Prom '88 was an enchanting experience for the hundreds of students who were impeccably dressed for the occasion. As the couples walked into the school, it was as if they were boarding the ship bound for "Enchantment Under the Sea", the theme for this year's prom. Mr. Gahr and Mr. Zimmerman assisting the prom committee worked very hard to create this illusion. One of the highlights of the evening was the announcement of the Prom King, Queen, Prince, and Princess. The seniors chose Laura Haskell and Jim Fedorko and the juniors chose Shelley Harvey and Chris Gray. The two royal couples danced together to the theme song "I Can't Help Falling in Love with You" sung by E-Z Street. After the prom the party moved to the St. Marys Country Club where they continued to dance the enchanting evening away.

OUTDOOR CLUB

The 1988 Outdoor Club participated in several activities this year shooting archery to building fishing poles. Many of the students had problems building their fishing poles. Some problems were trying guides on and putting handles on. They also assisted the fish commission in stocking over 1,000 trout. The jackets, however, were the highlight of the year, as usual.

YEARBOOK

"A New Generation"

Dedicated and hardworking — two words that aptly describe the 87-88 Voyager Staff. Making layouts, writing copy, and taking photos of various school activities are all special jobs that the staff must get done in order to make the yearbook a reality. Many times this year, the staff stayed late after school and worked during their study halls to make this year's book something that the students of SMAHS will treasure for a long time to come.

HONOR

Membership in the National Honor Society is open to all juniors and seniors provided that all members maintain a 94 GPA. All members of the National Business Honor Society must maintain a general scholastic average of 90% and must be enrolled in at least two business courses during each of the junior and senior years. To maintain membership, students must not violate school rules. To be inducted into the societies, students must petition for acceptance and complete the self-evaluation form which addresses such attributes as leadership, character, and service.

SOCCTEES

CLASS OF '88

On June 9 two hundred and sixty seniors took part in the Commencement exercises held in the school auditorium. After the band played the processional, Lori Dolan, Fifth Ranked Senior and Student Council President, presided as Mistress of Ceremonies. Paul Robertson, Fourth Ranked Senior, gave the invocation, and Phyllis Petrilli, Senior Class President, welcomed the assembly of seniors and their families. Nathan Marton, Class Valedictorian, gave an address in which he spoke about the responsibilities of each member of the graduating class. These responsibilities ranged from spiritual or moral responsibilities to responsibilities to family, community, and oneself. Melissa Daniels, Class Salutatorian, then gave her student address which was a nostalgic reminiscence of events in her class's history and a recognition of the challenging new experiences that lay ahead. Following Melissa's speech, Cheryl Brennen, Third Ranked Senior, presented her speech which addressed the need for planning to make goals and dreams a reality. Mr. Paul Robertson, Principal, then presented Honor Awards which was followed by presentation of diplomas. To close the ceremony, Lori Dolan gave the benediction and the band played the recessional.

The Top Ten Seniors (as of the fifth marking period) are shown here. Bottom row, left to right: #1 Nathan Marton, #2 Melissa Daniels, #3 Cheryl Brennen, #4 Paul Robertson, #5 Lori Dolan. Top row, left to right (not in order): James Fye, Deena Bittner, Phyllis Petrilli, Lisa Hoffman, and Brian Schatz.

The Class of '88
Thanks You!

THE NEW GENERATION

We, the Yearbook Staff, would like to use this space to thank special people who have made this yearbook a reality. Indirectly, our school board is responsible for all the activities in our school. We greatly appreciate their efforts. Mr. Robertson, our principal, has been extremely cooperative with our staff. When it came to scheduling pictures or buying materials, he never hesitated to help us. Wayne Bauer of The Daily Press provided us with many negatives and advice throughout the year. Mr. Amendola, Mr. Girts, and Ms. Gigliotti helped us with their photography skills. Strem-Varden Studios took pictures of events throughout the year. Tim Robinson, member of the class of '88, did a terrific job designing the cover, title page, and the comets throughout the book. Finally, Gerry Dellich, our representative from Herff-Jones Yearbooks, guided us and kept us from going insane.

excerpts from: THE NEW GENERATION

Time . . . It keeps passing by —
It's infinite and shall never die.
Although it's unavoidable that our time shall go,
We all can leave a clue that our time will show.
We are the new generation, the ones that will!
Our lives have been molded, but left for us to fill.

Some of us will stay and some will leave,
All of us following paths in which we believe.
In doing so, we will all have to go our separate ways,
Keeping in mind events and friends from our high school days.
We are the new generation, the ones who will shoot for the stars.
We are the new generation and the future will be ours!
